

Knit Together

“For you created my inmost being; you knit me together in my mother’s womb. I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made; your works are wonderful, I know that full well. Psalm 139:13-14 NIV

Lots of craziness going on in the world today. It seems this time on earth is full of opinions, speculation, and stress. Every time I turn on the news, someone else has an opinion or forecast of what is to come. They are trying to make a name for themselves and be “the one” that foresees the outcome of the Corona Virus. Politicians are not even listening to the people, because they are trying to promote their own agenda and be seen as the “savior” of the United States.

In relation to us personally, we may wonder why we have been forced to live in this uncertain time. As I read Psalm 139:13-14, it revealed something to me that I have never understood from this scripture. It is not just about the wonder of being created by the Creator and the majesty of birth, but it is about the specific time in history that God chose for us to be born. He placed key characteristics into our body and soul that gave us the stamina to endure these extraordinary times. He knew we would have to be strong. He knew that we would need to have hope in the midst of uncertainty. He knew we would need a deep faith in an unseen God to look past the agenda of the Politicians.

God created us in a unique fashion. He placed within us gifts and talents that are exclusive to each of us as individuals. He knew that we could use those characteristics to help us in our ministry. For instance, I have heard many testimonies from our older saints (many of which have received their final reward) about living in the Great Depression. They learned to survive on much less food and earthly possessions than before the stock market crashed and the banks went belly up. I heard them speak about how that pinto beans saved their life! They were born at just the right time in history for God to use them to minister to others that were hurting and in need. They were survivors and we are too!

I declare to you today, that you have been created for this time in history to make a difference! You are equipped with special abilities that God will use to minister to the people of this world. This crisis is not limited to the United States. It is everywhere. People are seeking God and needing the comfort of His Word and His assurance. YOU have been placed in THIS time in history to be HIS hands and feet! It is not by chance that you are here and God did not put you here to destroy you. God put you here to make you strong from within and to be a light in this dark world.

I have never dreamed how sinful this world would become, but we cannot deny that sin has gripped the hearts of so many people and they need a Savior! Not a politician, but a SAVIOR who is CHRIST THE LORD! There is only ONE Savior! A savior with hope. A Savior with truth. A Savior with peace.

You were formed in your Mother's womb on exactly the right day to bring you to this time in history! What will you do with the gifts God has placed in your hands?
